CAPT. B. B. GOLDEN MAKES FINE ADDRESS

One of the most scathing charges ever made in the history of Bell County against county officers, our courts in general and the citizenship for the utter lack of interest in law enforcement was made by Capt. B. B. Golden, Commonwealth Attorney, in an address to the citizens of Middlesboro in the First Baptist Church building here last Sunday. Altho there was a downpour of rain all evening the large auditorium of the church building was full to hear him.

Capt. Golden started off his address by reading the 23rd chapter of Matthew and then made his comparison. He said he was not in this business for the money there was as he could have made four or five times the money the office pays him if he had continued on in the practice of law but he wanted the office so he could render a needed service to his people and to use his talents in seeing that the laws of his district were enforced.

Capt. Golden did not mince words and said he had been practicing law for over thirty years and that from his own personal knowledge the courts of our land were worse than a farce and were corrupt. The most serious charge he made was the treason practiced by so many of our officers. They are paid by the money collected from the tax payers to run down and prosecute crime and use most of their time in helping to defend criminals and he made an urgent plea to the good citizens of the district to help him stamp out this practice. The very officers supposed to help Mr. Golden in the prosecution of crime and paid by the public will be found doing everything in their power to help free these law violators.

He paid his respects in strong language to the pistol toter, bootlegger and he awearer and said he was after them and by the help of the good citizens he would exterminate them, even if he did not get any help from the other officers. Mr. Golden said officers let friendship and sympathy work upon them too much and that while it hurt his feelings to prosecute in a good many cases, that it was vital and necessary that he do his duty to check the mockery that is being practiced by so many of our officers.

After his speech Capt. Golden invited every citizen that would stand by him in his program to stand and the entire house stood on its feet. Mr. Golden said he would like to have a picture of every one standing and see how much support he received for them at the coming session of court which was to convene here in two weeks. —Three States, Middlesboro.

James F. Smith, of Bryantsville, Garrard county, called at the Advocate office Saturday to subscribe for the paper. Mr. Smith says that many men who speculated by buying up a lot of land during the war hoping to clean up a small fortune are now back renting.

CIVIC LEAGUE

The Civic League met with thirty ladies present at the home of Mrs. Gibbs Lusk on Dishman Street here last night. Mrs. J. R. Tuggle presiding. Dr. G. H. Albright made a short talk explaining some of the so-called health bills that have been discussed in the General Assembly. The usual routine of business was taken up. Mrs. Wm. Marshall and Mrs. Charley Smith were received as new members while Mrs. T. F. Faulkner will again take up active work.

The hostess served a salad course during the social hour while all enjoyed the hospitality of her charming new home.

BREAKFAST WHEEZES

One of Dr. B. P. Jones' patients was recently worried over the disappearance of the family cat. After lancing a sore finger for her he found pus in it.

It would not seem to be good policy to cut one of his own patients, yet Dr. J. G. Tye did so recently. His excuse was appendicitis.

The thing we can't understand is why some people are afraid of insects when we all have aunts.

No, we do not care to have you hear us Mountain Advocate, central, all we care is that you hear us talk.

Life may seem scarcely worth the living to some people, but after a visit to one of our medical men it is Albright.

Complimented on the crispness of one of the firm's products, Charley Cole, of the Dixie Grocery, remarked, "Why, of course, ginger snaps."

When Clarence takes his auto to a big city does he Park 'er?

Should he put on his best suit and tie, and carry a box of the finest chocolates when he calls, does she assure him he is Her man?

Since Judge J. D. Tuggle had to take a law course to practice law, why does Oscar Mealer try suits?

SHERIFF'S OFFICE NEWS

They were all put under bond, seven of them after appearing before Judge J. T. Stamper on Thursday of last week and their cases will come up before the Circuit Court in April.

FOR IT WAS A GLORIOUS VICTORY

Saturday afternoon the following teams took part in the elimination games at Union College gymnasium to decide which of the teams should play the final at the night game: S. B. M. vs Barbourville H. S. 52 to 2.

London City H. S. vs Middlesboro H. S. 13 to 15.

U. C. Academy vs London City H. S. 39 to 9.

As an extra at the evening contest the U. C. first and second girls teams played, the First's winning by a score of 39 to 9. The play was full of pep and was greatly enjoyed.

When the boys of Sue Bennett romped into the gym it was noticed that they were long and nifty on their feet, the U. C. opponents being decidedly shorter up and down. 'Twas pleasant sledding for a while, the first half made the Sue boys smile, but in the second half, O boy! U. C.'s quick scoring did annoy. Sixteen to six is some good score and proved the Sues moved over the floor, but when U. C. had bumped the Sues, two, two—18 gave them the blues. Excuse us bursting into song, it will not take us very long, but 'twas a glorious victory—hence this hum valedictory.

Think of it, gentle reader. Sixteen to six with the bad boys from dear old London bearing off the crown as it were and U. C. students and Barbourvillians looking as tho they had dined heavily on unripe persimmons. In the second half a number of the co-eds, rendered desperate and aided by Jackie Howard as musical director, lined up before the London goal and catapulted forth their yells of defiance when the Sues made an approach, which was not often, being kept so busy by the playful tactics of U. C. that they appeared bewildered. They added one goal to their sixteen while Union converted their six to 22 before the game was over.

A big share of the victory was due to the team work of U. C. boys assisted by some extraordinary over the shoulder shots by Bill Tye, who appeared to have a map of the basket in his head so surely did he throw. George Tye offered himself as a buffer while Bill and Will Ed Dismann tried for the basket. However, one of the most remarkable goals of the evening was thrown by George Tye from the sidelines. It was a peach.

The boys left for Lexington on Thursday to play Friday and Saturday in the State championship contest.

NEWSPAPERS PREFERRED AS ADVERTISING MEDIUM

G. Ray Schaeffer, advertising manager of Marshall Field and Co., Chicago, in an address before the Advertising Club, stated that newspapers are a preferred medium for putting a matter before the public. The importance of stressing quality in all dealings with the public was emphasized. Advertising should represent the firm as faithfully and efficiently as the best salesman and first of all it should "sell" the institution and build confidence and good will. The public today judges a firm largely by the advertising, whether unconsciously or otherwise.

Who would be without the home town paper?

MABEL SAYS

The general public may be slow to understand that the dry cleaning business is one of the most formidable foes of the high cost of living. This same general public may be slow to give proper credit to the industry of this activity, altho it performed great service in this line during the time that wearing apparel prices were soaring above the clouds. The skill and equipment of the dry cleaners restored millions of dollars worth of clothing to active service in presentable form, at a time when it was most needed, instead of being thrown away or put to no real service. The lesson thus learned should be of lasting benefit.

The many phases of life affected by a patronage of the dry cleaning plants leads one far beyond the mere saving in wearing apparel. There is the health of the individual, the family and community to be considered. We already have strict government regulations in regard to the food we eat, but as yet there no regulation of the condition of our wearing apparel. The child who wears soiled and germ polluted garments daily to the school room, spreads disease germs at his own free will.

The dry cleaning industry should continue to grow into a most important factor in the lives of us all when we consider what its work skillfully done means to the pocket, the personal pride, and the physical well-being of each person.

The Barbourville Steam Laundry has invested hundreds of dollars in equipment in order to do dry cleaning the right way. Nothing is too delicate or costly to be trusted to their care. Just call up telephone No. 34 and they will send a truck right over and your things back the next day looking like new.

A RELIABLE FIRM

The C. S. Brent Seed Co., Lexington, is one of the most reliable seed firms in Kentucky. What they sell may be relied on as O.K. Why send to firms in other states where, if the goods are not as represented, they may not easily be reached? The premium seeds of Brent Seed Co., come up smiling every time. Established in 1873.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT

John Hammons, 21 years old, son of Grant Hammons, of Girdler, lost his right hand Monday while engaged in coupling cars at the L. & N. depot here. After the accident the glove which he was wearing appeared to be full of pulp, so badly was the hand crushed. The ambulance was quickly called and it was found necessary to amputate the hand. Dr. J. G. Tye performing the operation. A pathetic incident in connection with the case was the worry of the young man as to how it would affect his father. He begged those present not to let his father know what had happened.

HARLAN COUNTY COAL FIELDS MADE RECORD IN JANUARY

Due to the stocking up of industrial concerns in anticipation of a miners' strike April 1st, Harlan Coal fields produced more coal than ever before during a single month in last January. Screenings and mine are in better demand with a stronger price for the former. Demand for domestic sizes is weak.

Two inch lump and nut coal are slightly stronger. Mine run coal is more active with a better demand for gas, but prices are weak and offerings are heavy.

Opinion in the Harlan field is divided as to the possibility of strike, a number of the older heads pointing out that two or three strikes already exist in the Harlan field. They also argue that the Union spirit is still strong.
